

ELIZABETH D. BRISSEY

Curriculum Vitae

Auburn University • eds0025@auburn.edu • (334) 844-4620 • edbrissey.com

EDUCATION

PhD in English Literature - Auburn University	Expected May 2024
M.A. in English Literature - Auburn University	May 2019
Secondary English Education - Francis Marion University	May 2014
B.A. in English Literature - Francis Marion University	May 2009

TEACHING

Composition Instructor Auburn University Auburn, Alabama	2018-Present
---	---------------------

English Instructor Bullock County Summer Academy Union Springs, AL	Summer 2019
---	--------------------

Graduate Teaching Assistant Auburn University, Alabama Auburn, Alabama	2017-2018
---	------------------

Secondary English Instructor Newberry Academy Newberry, South Carolina	2014-2017
---	------------------

After-School Instructor Ramana Coaching Center Charlotte, North Carolina	2015-Present
---	---------------------

Student Teacher West Florence High School Florence, South Carolina	Spring 2014
---	--------------------

Assistant Counselor ScienceSouth Florence, South Carolina	Summer 2013 &amp; 2014
--	-------------------------------

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Medieval Literacies
Medieval Epistemology
Medieval Historical Writing

Book History
Affect Studies
Cognitive Studies in Literature

PRESENTATIONS AND AWARDS

International/National Conferences

-“An Introduction to 18thConnect.Org: Your Digital Humanities Project, from the Archive to the Web”
Biennial Meeting of the Aphra Behn and Francis Burney Societies
Auburn, Alabama November 2019

-“‘A Foulere Thing Nas Nevere Non:’ Numerology and the Character of the Saracen in Beves of Hampton”
International Congress on Medieval Studies
Kalamazoo, Michigan May 2019

-“Moving Beyond Reading Programs: Building Communities of Lifelong Readers”
National Council of Teachers of English
Boston, Massachusetts November 2013

Regional Conferences

-“‘To Write and Read Be Henceforth Treacherous:’ The Transgression of Marking in Shakespeare’s Cymbeline”
Southeastern Liberal Arts Research Conference
Auburn, Alabama April 2018

-“The Affective Dimensions of Literacy in the 21st Century”
South Carolina Independent Schools Association
Orangeburg, South Carolina November 2015

-“Problem-Based Learning: An Alternative Pedagogical Approach”
November 2012

Awards

James P. Hammersmith Best Paper Award, MA: “I Wolde Loke Both Ferre and Nere”: Searching, Traveling, and Telling The World in the York Corpus Christi Plays. Spring 2019

Best Paper, MA: “To Write and Read Be Henceforth Treacherous”: The Transgression of Marking in Shakespeare’s Cymbeline Spring 2018

RESEARCH

Project Manager, 18thConnect.org
Research Assistant, Craig Bertolet

2019-Present
May-August 2018

PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATIONS

Literature Co-Chair, Auburn English Graduate Association
Secretary, Auburn English Graduate Association

2019-2020
2018-2019

PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATIONS

- Modern Language Association (MLA)
- Medieval Academy of America (MAA)
- Phi Alpha Theta (National History Honor Society)
- International Marie de France Society (IMFS)
- The Tolkien Society
- International Courtly Literature Society- North America Branch (ICLS)
- John Gower Society

REFERENCES

Craig Bertolet

Professor, bertocr@auburn.edu

Anna Bertolet

Associate Professor, riehla@auburn.edu

Emily Friedman

Associate Professor, ecf0004@auburn.edu